Go the distance for safety’s sake.

Put enough distance between you and the equipment. Maintain visual contact with the operator.

Make safety a priority.
Avoid injuries through clear communication and visibility between the operator and spotter.